KV BIOGRAPHY

Kid Violet hybrid stadium anthem sound crossed with shout-from-the-rooftops indie leaves the band with a unique yet completely relatable sound.

The band's high energy rhythm section combined with singer Billy Cotter's hugely catchy lyrics have lead Kid Violet into becoming one of the most exciting new bands on London's re-emerging indie circuit.

The band's self titled debut album, due for release in Autumn 2019, is produced by Grammy nominated Brett Shaw (Foals, Florence & The Machine, Jamie T, The Strokes, The Killers) and was recorded at Shaw's own 123 Studio in Peckham.

Having played a handful of sold out London shows, the band take to the road for their first tour with shows in Poland, Ireland and across the UK. The band are planning a further, full UK support tour around the release of their album in late 2019.
